About Me

Crystal Renee is the founder and CEO of For All Bodies LLC. (2019) She started her modeling career in 2011 at a college fashion show and was one of the only plus petite models.

She pursued her dreams as a model in New York City and worked on various brand projects but still saw few opportunities for diverse models.

She created F.A.B as an outlet to creatives that want to challenge the status quo.

About F. A. B.

For All Bodies (FAB) a unique all inclusive fashion show that celebrates people of all shapes, sizes, and abilities. The purpose of the event is to spotlight the importance of body positivity, beauty of diversity, and self-love through art.

As a plus size-petite model signed to Couture Modeling Agency-New York, I saw a need for inclusion in the modeling industry and wanted to create an opportunity for people to shine for a good cause. Our #1 goal is to showcase people of all sizes to address the need for inclusivity in the fashion industry.

F.A.B. Reviews

"I had the pleasure of attending the "But First Let Me Take A Selfie" event. The venue was absolutely amazing. There were so many unique backdrops to take photos with. The creator- coordinator of the event Crystal was a delight and very engaged with all of the guests that attended! Would definitely love to attend this type of event again! "

For All Bodies' "But First, Let Me Take A Selfie" event was unique and fun! Walking in, I was impressed with how many different photography backdrops there were (at least ten). What caught my eye first, was a ring light that had selfie-taking capabilities. It seems like such a small touch, but anyone who likes being in front of the camera can appreciate these things. I had so much fun hanging out and taking photos with my friends, and even met some new folks as well! I am looking forward to the next event by For All Bodies (hopefully a similar event in the NYC/NJ area?)

First of all I'd like to thank you for making your platform and allowing us and artists to be connected to opportunities as well as creating a non judgmental space. You have no idea the impact you have! I heard about your account from a woman that got the casting from your page about a year ago and I've been a follower ever since. Thank you so much

Had a FABulous time at the But First, Let Me Take A Selfie event by FAB. There was the perfect amount of selfie stations so that I never had to wait for pictures. The appetizers and drinks were perfect and the host, Crystal, was very welcoming. Can't wait for the next event!

"The But First Let me take a Selfie event was a jackpot for content. I was able to network while creating so much. I was able to post for two weeks straight with all my new photos. The different photo ops were definitely Instagram worthy. I had a different background for all four of my outfits. FAB even made sure an area to change was provided! I'm looking forward to the next big event!"
